ArchiCADÂ .1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a disc cartridge of the type generally called a "jewel box" or "Jewel Box" which is used for storing a disc-like recording medium such as an optical disc (e.g. Compact Disc, etc.) or an optical magnetic disc (e.g. MO), and more specifically to a disc cartridge which is used for storing an optical disc such as a CD which is generally used for optical recording or reproducing of music and visual information or data of a computer or the like. 2. Related Background Art An example of a disc cartridge of the above described type is described in, for example, Japanese Patent Publication No. 56-63094. This example uses a conventional optical disc adapted for magneto-optical recording and reproduction such as a "MO cartridge" which is adapted to be loaded in an optical disc drive unit to be rotated and to be magnetically recorded/reproduced. This type of disc cartridge is characterized by having a rectangular cartridge case which contains a disc-like recording medium in a space defined therein and which is brought into a closed state by closing a lid for opening and closing a case main body. Such a cartridge case is formed with a diameter-increased space in an outer periphery of the case main body for containing the disc-like recording medium which has a 3e33713323
