URL Blocker Torrent

Get the most out of your internet usage with the tool that gives you control over your website access. Use it to block access to online gaming, porn or social media sites and then rest assured that you know exactly what your kids are doing online. Main Features: • Easy and intuitive user interface • Create your own lists • Set a website filter for a specific time • Enable a countdown timer for restricting access to blocked websites • Set up a master password for security • Block access to a particular website • Fully free and no-hidden costs What we think: URL Blocker is a pretty lightweight Windows application that helps you get the most out of your internet usage. You can use it to restrict your kids from accessing specific websites and online content, and set up a master password for security. Some of the features are intuitive enough that even less experienced users can easily set them up in minutes. It only takes an average of 10 minutes to set up everything. URL Blocker's default settings are already good enough to keep your kids away from online gambling, porn, and other inappropriate websites. However, you can easily make adjustments to restrict access to various types of websites in seconds. The program comes packed with a helpful feature that allows you to create your own list for restricting website access. This way, you can quickly restrict access to specific websites. You can also specify an exact time limit for each website to make sure your kids do not spend too much time on them. The program also has an option for enabling a countdown timer for restricting access to websites. This feature is of great importance for restricting access to online gaming, pornography and other inappropriate sites. Additionally, you can set a master password for security purposes, and use it as a reference point to block access to specific websites. You can even add a couple of websites that you want to access on a regular basis. URL Blocker works on all major web browsers, such as Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox and Microsoft Edge. This means you will be able to quickly restrict access to websites, regardless of the browser you are using. Even though URL Blocker only has a few default settings, you can easily customize it for restricting websites in seconds. You can add, edit and remove website filters and blocks in just seconds. You can even specify that certain websites can only be accessed via a VPN. To top it all, the program is fully free to use. You can access its features for as long as you want, and

What's New In URL Blocker?

URL Blocker is a lightweight Windows application built specifically for helping you block other users' access to certain websites on the breeze. It can be used as a parental control measure for making sure your children don't spend too much time playing games on the Internet or visiting webpages with inappropriate content for their age. Clean feature layout and basic functionality You are welcomed by a clean feature lineup that allows you to carry out most operations with minimal effort. Everything is kept as simple and clear as possible, so even rookies learn to master the entire process on the fly. The program comes packed with several dedicated parameters for helping you create a list with websites that are blocked. You need to simply input a valid URL in the dedicated panel and specify the time (in hours and minutes) and date. Additionally, the program lets you view how much time is left until the webpage is unblocked with the aid of a countdown timer. You can also set up a master password for making sure other users cannot access or modify the program's settings. Since it doesn't require much computer knowledge to set up the dedicated parameters, even rookies can master the entire process with minimum effort. Bottom line All in all, URL Blocker offers a simple software solution for helping you restrict other users' access to different websites in only a few steps, and set up a master password. The intuitive layout and lack of advanced features make it an ideal tool for less experienced users. The field of the present invention relates to amusement or theme park ride systems and more particularly to an amusement or theme park ride system having a preselected themed ride experience or ride environment. Several types of amusement or theme park ride systems are known in the art, with examples including rollercoasters, coasters, and various types of track-based ride systems. Such track-based ride systems are known in the art and examples include the well known Magi-Coaster® and Magnum™ ride systems, as well as the "cliffhanger" type track-based ride systems. In all of these known track-based systems, the rider moves through a defined track or pathway and, depending on how the ride system is constructed, the path or track that is followed through the ride system is predetermined. It would be desirable, however, to provide a system wherein the rider was permitted to move through the ride environment in such a way as to change the path of travel at predetermined locations within the track environment, and/or to determine the location at which the rider will experience a transition from one experience to another experience. It would also be desirable to provide such a system that enables such transitions to occur in a sequential fashion. Such a ride system and ride environment would enable the overall ride experience to be significantly different from that experienced by a person riding in a conventional theme park ride system.1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a coupling structure for a coaxial type antenna.
