Rest is a walking simulator game that tells the story of a grief stricken soul in a monochrome world where your decisions in isolation are your only guide. Game play consists of walking through a monochrome world, where you are alone. However, this is a dangerous place and as you explore new uncharted areas you will be given the chance to make decisions that will change the story you are telling. It is important to keep in mind that the influence of your choice in isolation will cause the world to tell a different story than the story you were telling previously. If you make a mistake you will lose your companion who is the only other person you are interacting with. Rest is currently available for Windows, Mac and Linux platforms. Background Rest is an emotion based game. It uses the same game engine as the first episode in Firewatch titled, The Zowie. The game will require a strong suspension of disbelief while you walk through a monochrome world with the exception of objects which will be colored red. It is important for you to make the right choices in order to succeed. The decisions you make as you explore the world will cause the world to respond and retell its story. Plot Rest is a monochrome game where the environment is telling its story. The story line is seen through the eyes of Mina. Mina is a grief stricken soul, who has lost the only person she had ever known. The game is set in a monochrome world, with the exception of objects that are colored red, that will be used as the medium to drive the story. As you play, you will be given the chance to make choices and ultimately change the story. Every choice you make will change the story and ultimately who you will meet along the way. Rest also features input that is done automatically via facial recognition, that will be used as a driving force to the overall story, all while it is still being told. The game is categorized by the way the sun, moon, and stars are seen. The planet that you are on has a geocentric orbit, meaning that the sun, moon, and stars revolves around the planet. This allows for the story to be told in the sky, by the sun, moon, and stars. The game takes place on a red planet that was once green and had a lush forest, but no longer has the forests and is now covered with the ever present red dust from the lava flows from the oceans that have long gone

Deep mysteries in a dark future is When a new mystery, already known and deadly forces are at work, Detection Bureau: Missing Persons may be the first step into an adventure of global consequences. In this exciting space-based detective adventure game you can investigate different crime scenes and solve the cases by collecting relevant evidence and interviewing witnesses, which will give you enough insights to understand who's behind, what and where. In this game you will become a detective, which is your duty to help the police in solving mystery cases. Are you ready to start investigating? Every breath you take matters in this dark thriller and space exploration adventure. SPACE-MEMORY You've always had a feeling, that your whole life was not only about just doing your daily job, but about something more. Your feelings are confirmed now. You have been chosen to investigate, to solve a mysterious event, that happened on the Moon. You got a memory - without your remembering why or how. Maybe it's just a past nightmare, maybe it's a future nightmare. Maybe is just a failed attempt of an experiment with an unique thinking pattern engine, but the consequence is a strange psychotic behaviour of the human mind. Maybe it's just your own death, but there's no way to find out, what will happen next, before your death takes place. There is a possibility that everything that happened was just a long vivid nightmare, but you can't leave the moon without this mystery to solve. In your investigation you have to follow every clue and investigate every corner of the world of justice and revenge, you have to endure every challenge and do every task, that's necessary to find your way to the truth. Heaven. You're finally on the Moon, your first mission as a detection agent, but the Moon is not so close to you, at least not yet. You just have to do your daily mission, to investigate, to solve the case and of course, don't die. Like you always do. You are finally here, our sole representative in a new space, in a real near future, to make your first steps into, to get the first close look at a new reality. The weather is weird, the people are weird, and the time is weird. You really have to hurry up. On your way to school, you are suddenly brought back from a mysterious dream, from a strange dream. You can't remember, if the c9d1549cdd

1. Aim-accuracy. Firing weapons costs one energy unit. Your maximum amount of energy unit is 200 units. Your accuracy varies between the weapons. Your weapons accuracy can be increased by adding weapon exponents to it. For example, you will get accuracy bonus of 1 if you have 100 weapon exponents, of 2 if you have 200, and so on. Some weapons have very high accuracy, others have very low accuracy. When you shoot, your weapon's accuracy will decrement. If accuracy is reduced to 0, you will shoot automatically. If your accuracy is reduced to -100, you will not shoot, but your weapon will be ready for you to use again. Your maximum accuracy can be increased by increasing the weapon exponents. So you would be able to add weapon exponents like 100 to 200 to get a accuracy bonus of 1.0. Your accuracy can never be decreased to -100. Only your maximum accuracy can be reduced to 0. When a weapon's accuracy is -100, you will shoot automatically. There are 3 weapons types available in the game: pew pew, small cannon, flamer. Most weapons are available in both first and third person view. When your weapon's accuracy is -100, the game will automatically move you in the nearest weapon position. 2. Energy units. Your maximum amount of energy unit is 200. Every time you fire a weapon, you use one energy unit. Energy units replenish over time. The speed of energy units replenishment varies between weapons. Your weapon exponents can be added to weapons' energy units. For example, you can increase the amount of energy units from 1 to 2 with 100 weapon exponents. But your maximum amount of energy units cannot be increased. Your maximum energy unit can only be reduced to 0. When your energy unit reaches 0, your weapon will be fully depleted. It will not be possible to reload it. You can easily refill your energy unit by doing the basic attack. Every weapon has its own refill speed. Your maximum amount of energy unit will reset when you kill an enemy. Every time you kill an enemy, you will get an amount of energy unit equal to 10% of your maximum amount of energy unit. Your maximum amount of energy unit can be increased up to 200 by adding weapon exponents. For example, you would be able to add 100 to your maximum amount of energy unit by adding 100 weapon exponents. 3. Stats. You have a maximum amount of stats. You can increase your

Car: Everybody A Search For The Piece Left Behind The Driver Is A Good Start. Then A Scrap Could In Fact Be Facing You. Does Anyone Know If This Is Yet Another Piece? Allison Worried Him & Turned To Twitter For Help. (Video) Twitter Www.cnn.com One good samaritan is doing all he can to find the child of an accident victim. Information is scarce and typical signs of a child's life is nowhere to be found. What's being posted on Twitter and other social media helps sooth the families heartache. Little Lori Porternean,19 months old was in the back seat of her parents car one terrible day in April and she only made it 3 feet in a ditch before she died of head trauma. Amit Patel, who was by himself at the time says "it's like he drove off the road, his car went into the ditch, with him, his car went all the way up to his head, his eyes were widened, he wasn't moving, and then he passed away." Since the death, Abby Worried has been trying to get word out through her twitter site. She's asking people to look for anything about the child. Like toys, blankets, even a diaper bag, anything that a child could be in. And early Sunday morning, Worried found a piece of clothing associated with the child on the internet. It's not exactly sure about what it is, but the color is similar

Hendricks she has to come to the DPW with the clothing to have it cleaned, her son found a picture of Lori from a report she found on Google and in the four days since she has had the clothing all of the distinctive red t-shirts, one was on top of the car as if it was dropped, in the beginning people posted on twitter and Facebook the question "was Lori on top or bottom of her car seat?" Worry posted on facebook saying "I was wondering if any of you know anything about it, is Lori T shirt # 12 red below or on top of car seat. It could be her pajamas, we are not 100% certain but it has to be, would really help." Twitter follower Regan Kanda answered "WOW. Oh my GOD your mini-dollars, and upgrade your products at the market.*You can even invite and challenge your friends via Facebook. *Stay connected to the latest updates at the Facebook community at up to date with our Twitter feed: "Tiny Tower is cute, comfortable and fun. It's easy to learn and every level, once you master a few new building concepts, is a treat. It's a dream come true for those of us who love to build. No trudging around, no endless hours of running back and forth or waiting for deliveries. All you need is your creativity, curiosity and a beautiful bottle of red-hot cheetos." - Pocket Gamer, UK "Tiny Tower has attracted a huge number of fans. What's so endearing about it is that there's no need for a score to be kept or stress to be borne over repeatedly failing to get your mini-dollars to the next level. If you want to learn the game's mechanics and develop an appreciation of its underlying formula, well, who cares. If you want to get rich and get on with it, or spend the afternoon without taking your eyes off your tower, there's nothing to worry about, no one to impress, and no progress to admire." -4players "Tiny Tower certainly has a lot of potential. That said, this is a simple game and a simple game is a game that offers not much. Tiny Tower is one of those games you know how to play, but don't play, because the simplicity is exactly what you want." - NeoGAF "This is a fun and addictive little game." - Dice Tower "Tiny Tower has that something about it. It's incredibly fun and
