This edition is the blueprint for the campaign, where players will discover a new perspective on the Korean War from an underdog perspective. Freedom of Fire gives players the opportunity to choose from two battlegrounds: Inchon, an epic map where players will must fight their way through a massive urban and industrial area, or the maelstrom of city warfare in Busan. Players will be able to operate an arsenal of new vehicles, while mastering an extensive arsenal of brand-new weapons. The campaign will feature four new vehicles and three new weapons. Key Features: 1. New Tank: Inchon differs from other modes in that it is the first game in the game to feature a brand-new tank. The Tiger Tank 59 is an alternative to the previously featured traditional Tiger I tank, featuring a new style, vision, new color scheme and a new vertical anti-aircraft gun with a new aiming system. 2. Single and Multiplayer: The campaign mode includes a single player campaign, which covers the first operation of the Battle of Inchon. There is also a cooperative multiplayer mode available for up to 4 players. 3. New Weapons: Freedom of Fire includes three new weapons, all of which can be equipped on the new tank, the Tiger Tank 59. The Tank 61 will get a medium, and semi-heavy anti-aircraft gun, the Tank 64 will get a long-range anti-tank missile and a short range anti-aircraft gun, and the tank will also get a machine gun. 4. New Vehicles: Players will get a chance to drive four new vehicles and a new air support vehicle, which was discovered in the operation on the boat. The Blitzkrieg or "Lightning Blitzkrieg" was a tank from the German Wehrmacht that was modified to extend its legs for an amphibious assault. The air support vehicle can either be a bomber or an observation plane. REVIEW: "Tiger Tank 59" is very good game if you were a person who love the battle game. If you don't like battle game this is the best game to go for. This game have really good art design, sound design and gameplay. I recommend this game to everyone. For those who have a computer that able to run this game. If you want buy it you can try it first to see if you want to buy or not. "Tiger Tank 59" is a game from Future World. How can you like this game?
