Indian Film Ensemble of the Year 2017. A .A . In this publication the main focus of the research was to answer the question of whether there is any change in the distribution pattern of corruption around the globe. To examine this question the Global Corruption Database was used and through this means a sample of corruption cases was taken. This was used to examine the distribution of corruption around the globe. The paper will answer the following question, if there is a distribution of corruption cases around the globe. The main hypothesis of the research is that the distribution of corruption around the globe is in a random pattern. The research question will be answered using a Bernoulli survey which is a statistical model. The Bernoulli Survey is being used to investigate the distribution of corruption around the world. Due to the limited outcome of the research, the research question will be answered within a scope that the research will be able to answer. Scenarios for a right to education in Myanmar: school choice as a practical and ethical issue Though there are several studies on the issue of school attendance and school dropout rates in the region, it seems that these are not a real focus of attention in the field of education. In this paper, we will investigate one of the most important aspects of the right to education, namely the right to schooling. Students' Freedom of Thought in Modern Nigeria: A Study of the Challenges The purpose of the study is to examine the levels of students' freedom of thought in Modern Nigerian Universities. The study has three broad objectives. First, it seeks to establish the prevalence of students' freedom of thought in Modern Nigerian universities. Second, it will offer a detailed analysis of the nature of the challenges students encounter while exercising their freedom of thought in the Nigerian university. Finally, it will seek to establish the relationship between the freedom of thought of students and those factors of the educational process which they encounter as challenges. The Development of a Cohort Education System for Brazil In the second edition of the study, the author develops a conceptual framework for the discussion of education innovations. This framework is based on the insights of the field of cognitive psychology, and includes the most common dimensions used to describe innovative education approaches. This framework is applied to discuss the development of a cohort education system. The goal
