Transparent Black is a little adventure role-playing game with multiple endings. You're in a classroom on your last day of school. This is not a "survival" game. You cannot fight monsters. You play as a schoolgirl. A mysterious man and an even more mysterious book called "Red Hand" appear. The man announces that the class has to solve the puzzle he set up. There are just a few rules: You can't touch anything or get close to anyone. Get the red hand book and leave the school as soon as possible. There is a way out. You can climb to the second floor. It will be impossible to get the book if you stay longer than half an hour. If you stay longer than half an hour the game will end and you will lose. It's a game with multiple endings and I'm going to play all of them. They're sorted by the number of minutes you're "allowed" to stay in the school. I swear I'm not lying on the picture. It really happened. When you reach time limit there is no way to play the game without help. It's a bit like a text adventure except you can do nothing. You cannot get anything and you can't fight. And it'll be impossible to get the red hand book. Please do not read any further. You cannot read anymore. A: This is from an old Facebook group dedicated to Transparent Black by the name of: "Transparent Black is very short for girls" As they explains in the post, the situations that can happen are: [spoiler] (For the first 15 seconds) You're at school. You're at school's playground. You're at home with your parents. You're at school's classroom. You're at school's playground. You're at home with your parents. You're at school's classroom. You're at school's playground. You're at home with your parents. You're at school's playground. You're at school's classroom. You're at school's playground. You're at home with your parents. ===== Music: "Our Place In Black Powder Red Earth" by the guitarist Chris Ellzey, was played by permission of the music rights agency Warner-Chappell Music. ===== Audio Record Labels: Chris Ellzey and the Wizard Piano: You want to deliver parcels to people but you don't have your own transport. You can ask your friends to carry some parcels or buy a parcel van, but first you need a load of parcels. You have to visit different houses and collect parcels to fill up your van with parcels. You'll be able to enjoy this challenging game play on mobile devices and tablet computers. You can move the parcels from one to the other by using the arrows of your touch screen or by playing with the keys. Your job is to deliver all the parcels as fast as possible while avoiding the obstacles. To do this, you have to use your parcel van to increase its capacity. Your goal is to deliver as many parcels as possible. You'll have to manage the 3 resources that your parcel van has : fuel, water and oxygen. The last resource will decrease with time. You'll have to manage it to avoid the consequences. You'll have to manage a series of houses. Each house gives you a parcel to deliver. There are some mistakes in this game. Making an error costs you your resources. No more resources for your parcel van means that your job is done. You don't always have the resources on the floor. I made a small story to help you understand how this game works and how you can do your job. You'll be able to get back to the main game by pressing the BACK button. What's new:

Modding, turnbased strategy, adventure - with some hints of romance for the ladies. Here we have the story so far: Bran’s life as an engineer has just started. His father, a respected higher-up in several governmental states, is retiring. He sends Bran to the one and only megacorp, MegaCorp, to receive his well-deserved pay raise and talk about the future of the company. Bran makes it to MegaCorp with not a second to spare. His father was, perhaps understandably, shocked to find Bran working in such a disreputable place. After all, how can Bran, heir to the billionaire family and the revered Dr. Bran, an esteemed scientist who cured the flu, be so low-class? Must learn the right way to take management This is a visual novel Maker game, but it is a very type of visual novel Maker. We take jottings direct from the novels of famous author Victor Hugo. Sometimes they are quotes, sometimes they are the exact text in language. From a visual novel Maker. As with all VN Maker games, the game will have a plot branching tree where the decision you make when talking to another person may affect the way the story continues. You will, of course, be given an option to start a new game as a new person or as a different person if you liked the previous one. VN Maker games, in a nutshell. The game will be set in the 19th century. The world holds a few peculiarities: the upper class are part-time musician, part-time adventurers, part-time business people. The underclass for the most part are working class laborers, with the occasional butt-kicking heavily implied. However, the gender ratio is distributed rather evenly throughout the class structure. Visit each of the cities to get to the other cities. Make relationships with people of other classes in order to make them join your party. Take out the bandits who try to rob and steal your bags and your precious time. Gain various missions, and do them, only to lose them later. Learn the art and science of the combat in order to ensure your survival from the numerous guards and enemies that you will face. VN Maker. Yes. Yes, that sounds a bit more promising than my description of a normal VN game. It
