Here, I will demonstrate how to recreate the most successful midfielder in the world with FIFA 22. The midfield is arguably the most important role in football. In a 5-a-side FIFA game you can probably pin-point a player's job from a few minutes into a game when they have to take a risk and take the game to the opposition. It might be a wild tackle on the edge of the box, an outrageous through ball or an inside run. These are the type of decisions a player must make in order to dominate the game. No longer are players simply expected to be the creative spark. They are required to make pivotal passes, off-the-ball runs, and own defensive duels with their opponent. While many talented players are able to do this, the best players in the world are expected to do so with a frequency and certainty that few others are capable of. Let's start with the player. We will use Yaya Touré. I know Touré is an attacking midfielder, but he is still a midfielder and in FIFA 22 he performs the role more than any other. His ability to blend playmaking and defensive coverage, to initiate moves and set up others is unparalleled in the FIFA football world. To start this guide I will have Yaya kick the ball, create a move, and show you the essential skills needed to succeed with FIFA 22. 1. Yaya Touré The first thing to realize about Yaya Touré is that he is incredibly skilled at dribbling. While not impossible in FIFA, particularly for a physically weak and diminutive midfielder, is Touré's first touch. To demonstrate, I'll slow Yaya's movements down by 50% and clearly show you where his trouble is. As you can see, there is a huge obstacle in Yaya's way, and he is never going to achieve his full potential if he cannot beat this barrier. While his dribbling is tremendous, he is unable to time his first touch. His poor timing causes him to lose possession. If he moves the ball on before the opposition can react he is at risk of losing it to a more alert opponent. Now let's freeze the action at the moment he touches the ball. By using the in-game tool we can see that what is needed here is some ability to anticipate. It is crucial to Yaya's footballing abilities that he can make
