i have downloaded and installed the archicad 16 usa library and its added a number of the extrusion objects, but i cant find a way to save as a new library. i have tried many things and cant find a way to do it. it is unfortunate that they took the option out of the usa version. can anyone help? hi! i know this is kind of an old post already but i was searching online for how to download the us library and this came up in the results. im based in the philippines and using the international version, but i found that the electrical symbols included are british/european symbols. in our country we mostly follow the us electrical symbols. so now i was hoping that i could download the us library for ac16 any ideas or is it possible for me just to get the electrical symbols from the us library 16 thanks and would appreciate any insights on this. how come the usa version of archicad 16 does not have the basic window folder that is included in the int version can i get them into my usa library (in fact i just now noticed there are a lot of differences between the two window libraries) i used archicad 15 usa version, then we upgraded to archicad 16 int. i thought the new basic windows available in that version were the new standard across the board. so i had to manually change all of our projects windows because the int library was different. now we are going to move back to archicad 17 usa, am i going to have the reverse issue now with the libraries carl, oddly enough the issue youre dealing with was partially addressed in a post i published yesterday over on bim engine. you can read it here. but the easiest way to get the archicad 15 library is to reinstall archicad 15, and either keep it installed or copy the library out into a safe location before re-deleting the program. I actually advise keeping it installed. There are occasionally instances when you want to be able to just work in the original version of software a project was created in. For instance it might be easier to finish or rework or view an ArchiCAD 16 project in 16 instead of 17 (because of how building materials will rework composites). 5ec8ef588b
