Easy to use, not bad for the price. I could not get the GSM networks to work in some areas. Sent an email to Garmin to make sure this was an issue with the phone or the app. Was able to request a physical map card. Really happy with the app and the device and would order again. If more features are needed please add. The problem with the Garmin maps is they had a major update on 7.3. They also removed the maps for EU and I think other countries. You can download the old maps from the Garmin web page but they are so old they dont work. So. Now we have an alternative. It cost a bit more to download a map from a phone but its worth it. Every time I try to download the Garmin EU 8 map , the Garmin device says the specified update is not supported. But the iOS app can download and use. Any ideas how to get this working. I purchased the device in August. It shows the correct version of iOS. Tried various recommendations from forum but nothing seems to work. I am always too close to the sun. I'm from the inside and too far away from the Wifi. I have been looking for a program to import all of my trail data but have yet to find one that has the features of the Garmin unit. I think I have about 500 kilometers on the Garmin unit when I was out of Gas for a short time. I would like to be able to use the API in the program and download all of my maps. I have no way of exporting them to a flash drive. Turns out the old version was the only one compatible with the new version of the app, so I still don't have any blue fire, and nothing has changed, and there is no new version on Garmin's website, but the older version is still listed on the App Store.
