If you have a powerPC machine (G3, G4, G5, G6, iMac, Mac Mini, etc) click here to download the full ISO.

Second, If you have an Intel Mac click here to download the full ISO. Don't hesitate to email me, or ryselle@gmail.com if you have questions. The download should be through as a zipped package and the MacDrive code works perfectly on the Apple install as long as you do a standard iatkos install. It runs great and boots from the optical drive and you can decide to install 10.5.3/10.5.4/10.5.5 or whatever youd like. I'm sure people will be interested to see if it can run iatkos 10.5.4 so I may start a thread for that and we can swap notes if anyone wants to try that. but there wasnt time to work on the ramdrive because I hadnt made a backup and upgraded my Leopard to 10.5.6. I have tried iDeneb 10.7-10.8 and I will be buying 10.6.8 soon as 10.7 has little in it that I want. got the DVD version tho, not the serial that will be out in a few days. I just need wifi, audio, webcam, and sleep. The price of OS X right now seems to be very high-end (i wish it wasnt). well ill keep hunting. i found a working combination between 10.6.7 and 10.6.8(according to this), a DVD/serial from a site and a black iBook. I will see how it works out.
