In doing a little bit of research for the release of my new book, I came across this post. WASHINGTON — Labor Day is shaping up as a busy one for President Trump, as he faces a news conference on Wednesday before what could be his first major battle of the fall — a prime-time address to a joint session of Congress on Sept. 20. As he seeks to keep up with a deluge of criticism of the decision to withdraw troops from Syria and open the way for Turkish forces to attack Kurdish fighters in the area, Mr. Trump is facing scrutiny from lawmakers at home and abroad about his policy decisions and his tweeting habits. In addition, his approval ratings, which seem to hover around 40 percent, could have consequences for his agenda. “When you’re at 40 percent, you can’t be ignoring
