MentoLiga With License Code For Windows

MentoLiga is a software application whose purpose is to help you keep track of a football season for any league. You can create your own teams and leagues, simulate game results, as well as generate profiles for players, clubs, coaches and referees. User interface The tool sports a clean layout and displays a well-organized set of features. Music is played in the background and you may also build up a list with your favorite songs or you may opt for muting the sound. League manager The tool gives you the possibility to set up rules by providing information about the season, country, confederation, betting league, first and second division, points per match, team classification, and points per card. Additionally, you can sort the classification by goal difference, score goals or both options. What's more, you can build up a list with referees, import squads from the last season, load squad data from MLE or plain text file format, change the league, undo changes, as well as generate a league by entering details about the first and second division, exchanging teams and loading information from plain text file format. League profiles MentoLig helps you create a country profile by selecting the country from a drop-down list and entering information about the confederation, federation, couch, and league rules. Plus, you can assign a suggestive image for each country profile, provided that the file format is PNG, JPG, BMP or GIF file format. What's more, you can define a club profile for the first or second division by adding data about the club name, address, stadium, capacity, pitch, members, honors, president, vice-president, coach and website. A coach profile can be set up by filling in information about the name, birthplace, country, height, club, career details (season, transfer and club), birthday, age and nationality. Additionally, you may add a custom image from your computer. The tool lets you generate player profiles where you are given the freedom to enter details about the name, birthplace, country, height, position, birth date, age, nationality, and career. A referee profile can be created by giving details about the name, birthplace, country, height, committee, role (referee or assistant referee), category (regional, nation, international or FIFA), and occupation. All the profiles can be printed, and you may also add notes for each profile. Save results, classification,
