Download

ZAP is an open-source, cross-platform application designed to be a highly efficient cross-platform spider. It was developed by the developers of Burp Suite. ZAP will monitor your network for suspicious activities and serve as a proxy to your browsers. ZAP can easily monitor all browsers on your local network such as Internet Explorer, Mozilla Firefox, Google Chrome and others. A couple of key features of ZAP are its speed, light footprint, minimal user interface and ease of use.

Speed and Efficiency: ZAP is an excellent choice for those looking for an alternative to the popular Burp Suite. ZAP can support 30 proxy engines and has many useful features, including built-in automatic optimization and integration with a wide range of tools. A primary goal of ZAP is to be fast. ZAP does not use a browser based engine, but a custom engine built specifically for the app. The result of this speed is efficiency. ZAP is designed to be an extremely efficient spider. We found that you could run ZAP in a single machine on a local network and provide real-time monitoring for all of the clients. Minimal User Interface: ZAP features a simple user interface with intuitive menu system. No tab-based or tree-based menus. Just drag and drop. You also don't need to learn a single command to start it up.

Minimal Features: ZAP is designed to be a lightweight, efficient proxy for all of your web surfing needs. All of the features that we've listed above make ZAP a powerful, real-time proxy for the average user. ZAP is an excellent alternative to the popular Burp Suite.

Getting Started:

1. Download and Install ZAP on your system (
2. Drag and drop the ZAP-2.9.0-osx.zip file onto your system to start ZAP.
3. Use the "ZAP" icon to launch ZAP.
4. Start up the ZAP app and log in with the credentials for your admin account. For further info, go to ZAP is an open-source, cross-platform application designed to be a

It is the application used for key-binding of macros for various technologies.

KEYMACRO works with macro-keys, so, it is used to set the macro-keys for mouse and keyboard as well. The user can create a macro to activate key combination keys or create a custom macro for any of the following: Firefox, Opera, Chrome, NVDA, Windows Media Player, VLC, Media Player Classic, GoToMeeting, Outlook, Microsoft Word, MS Excel, MS PowerPoint, MS OneNote and more. It can easily be integrated into the other applications through the standard procedure of Macro-enabling and Macro-settings. In this article I will tell you how to use KEYMACRO for Windows. Before we start using KEYMACRO, let's understand what a Macro is and how it works. A Macro is a set of sequential actions that you would like to perform at a certain time. It is usually used to automate a particular task that can be performed faster than typing a single keystroke for each task. Macros are usually recorded by typing a sequence of keys on the keyboard. It is possible to record different actions that are possible to perform in your system. It is basically a set of key strokes that performs a particular task. You can have separate macros for each of your preferred applications (for example, media player for video, email client for sending emails, browser for web surfing and even photo viewer for viewing your images) or one big macro that allows you to perform a set of functions quickly. The process of Macro creation is described below: 1) Create a Macro 2) Enable the Macro 3) Define what should happen when the Macro is triggered. 4) Enter a Macro Key 5) Enter text for the Macro Key and press the Macro Key 6) Repeat steps 3 to 5 until you are done. If you do not know how to create a Macro then follow the following steps: 1) Go to the Menu>Tools>Macros 2) Click on the Macros tab. 3) On the right side, click on Create New Macro. 4) You will be prompted for the action to perform on the creation of the Macro. 5) You can create a New Macro, Edit an existing Macro, add a Favorite Macro, delete a Favorite Macro or add a Favorite Macro. 6) Give the Macro a Name. 7) Select the Start Macro Key. 8) You will get a list 2edc1e01e8
