And, as the reviewer, you can publish your Photoshop review to the Creative Cloud website so others can see it and leave their own comments. Collected reviews are listed to the right of the panel. If you want an even easier workflow, we now have a Workflow tab that's not only a great place to submit your own review, but also a great place to add a few keywords that we might use to find it faster at the Adobe Labs search. If you're opening a review for the first time, you can now add tags and keywords to that document after installing the app.
